Preface

1158905

I have faithfully copied data, pertaining to Leavitts, for more than twenty years. I have tried to secure correct dates of family records but finding dissimilarity in the records, errors in census reports, vital statistics, town reports, tombstones, and even family Bibles, it is impossible to secure absolutely authentic data in a work of substantial quantity. I do not claim to be always correct and will gladly correct any errors. I do believe my work to be as correct as is humanly possible from existing sources.

Charles E. Leavitt 1850-1900
Relatives, a tremendous task is completed more for love of you than for any selfish desire. However, I enjoyed the work immensely. I gained the acquaintance of hundreds of lovely "Leavitts," having corresponded with descendants in all but one state of the Union, and in foreign countries. When I reach Heaven I am sure there will be a host of Leavitts awaiting my arrival.

Please consider this preface a letter direct from me to you, my thousands of relatives! I desire to thank every one who so kindly helped and especially do I thank several who contributed the proceeds of many years' labor. John Shepard Leavitt rendered me incalculable aid. I congratulate him for his correctness of copied data and references. The work of Leora Mae Green (Mrs. George Hildenbrand) was valuable. Runnels' History of Sanbornton, Bell's History of Exeter, Dow's History of Hampton, N. H., and Lincoln's History of Hingham, Massachusetts, are rich in Leavitt genealogy and from these I gathered most of my early data. The latest four generations I received from the living. About fifty years between the early and the late seemed impossible to obtain. Elderly Leavitts wrote me they had sent data to one Joseph Leavitt of Chicago who was writing the genealogy some fifty years earlier. I finally located his manuscripts at the Historical Society of that City. I discovered the author was a close relative, Joseph Parker Leavitt (7), John (1) line, whose father removed from the town of Northfield, N. H. to Gilmanton and there all records stopped. Unknowingly I was continuing his work, which was cut short by his sudden death in 1883.

To my many relatives in states of Maine and Utah, Greetings! especially Della Marriott and Ann Wight. Thanks for your untiring research. Thanks to many others whose names must be omitted. Thanks to early ancestors for carrying on family names which furnished many a clue! For example: the name of Nehemiah is first used in the family of John (1) and continued in his line to the eighth generation. Thanks to my husband, Herbert M. Noyes, for his patience over a period of years of neglected housework; to my brother, Dr. Alvin B. Leavitt, for his research and financial aid; to Leon Leavitt of N. H. many thanks for his English material, a great addition to my own.

Miss Almira Leavitt wrote me "While I was in England I met some unusual English people who told me the Leavitts were of Derbyshire and were very fine people."

I dedicate this book to Herbert M. Noyes and Alvin B. Leavitt.

YOU OR YOUR ANCESTORS

“If you could see your ancestors
All standing in a row,
Would you be proud of them, or not;
Or don't you really know?

“But here's another question, which Requires another view:
If you could meet your ancestors
Would they be proud of you?”

Foreword

(Source of Leavitt data). Several have written short Leavitt genealogies. A booklet by James Torrey of Lewiston, Maine, 1853 gives names of descendants of Jacob of Pembroke, Mass. and Turner, Maine, without dates. "The Leavitt Family in America" by Jane Eldridge: Utah families are very well done but the eastern material contains many errors. In the work of Joseph P. of Chicago three Leavitts who had secured many data passed it on to him. Thomas Hooker Leavitt (6) J. (1) line describes his work thus: "A family record which I had commenced in 1849 was in 1871 placed in the hands of Joseph Leavitt and with intense interest and at a great cost of time and labor was continued by him to about the time of his death. * * * * The story has been handed down that they came from England on the Mayflower, which had brought to Plymouth the Pilgrim Fathers eight years earlier." (This seems to confirm statements made by authors of early histories that John arrived in 1628, also to confirm the family tradition often repeated that he arrived in this ship.) "They were grandsons of William of Tittleworth, County of Essex, on the coast of England." (If he refers to Thomas and John, and if it be true, John and Thomas were own cousins, but I very much doubt it.) "It is supposed that the Leavitts came to England with William the Conqueror in 1066, for in a church in Normandy several Leavitts are said to be listed as having gone to England with William. The little farm is on Leavitt Street on the edge of Hingham, Mass. The original house is not standing but the farm house now standing is over 200 years old."

(This was written between 1849 and 1871 therefore would make the John Leavitt homestead built before his death. However, descendants at Hingham believe the frame house now standing on Leavitt Street was built in 1712 by two of his grandsons; others say two of his sons built it.)

"John was chosen to seat the people in the meeting house. The Elders and Deacons sat in pews facing the congregation. Men and women sat apart. In 1681 John was taxed seven lbs. 13 shillings and 4 pence for the new meeting house which is still standing at Hingham, Mass., the oldest Protestant meeting house in the United States. It is called the 'Ship Meeting House,' and has been used by the Unitarians for about 100 years. On Jan. 10th, 1669 town lands were put into 700 shares, of which John received 141½ shares. 'Signed Thomas Hooker Leavitt.' " See New Eng. Genealogical Society, at Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass. mss. by William Hunt Leavitt, January 1900, who was a relative of Thomas Hooker Leavitt. His records differ from those of his relative. "At Dime, on the coast of France, in an old church is recorded the list of names of those crossing to England with William the Conqueror in 1066 and among these names appears the name of Leavitt. Motto of Crest: 'Mens Consia Recti' meaning a mind capable of concentration."

WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR

In Jan. 1934 issue of the D. A. R. magazine pp. 18 to 25 is a very interesting story of William and his followers, giving a partial list of Americans who descend from him or his followers who were made knights by him.

A picture of the tablet which hangs in Battle Abbey is shown on p. 21, and carries the names of his companions who were mostly noblemen of Normandy, France, and whom he honored, after his conquest, with knighthood. The name "Lovet" appears in the fourth column, fourth place from bottom line.

Also in this June issue pp. 329-34 "William surnames England" is a most interesting article on William and his band of Conquerors.

Among the American and English names who have proven their descent from this band are: M. W. L. S. Lovett Cameron, descended from "Guillaume" (William) Louvet. From same ancestor Canon John Percival Lovett, also M. W. L. S. Lovett Clarendon, also the Rt. Hon. Neville Lovett, and Sir H. Verney Lovett, K. C. S. L. The name John Percival Lovett may be of same line as ancestors of John of Hingham, Mass. whose father's name was Percival.

LEAVITTS OF ENGLAND

Among the early New England Leavitts the explorer, Capt. Christopher Leavitt, whose life has been so ably written by Hon. James P. Baxter, for the Georges Society of Maine, comes first. He bore the same arms as the Melton Levettts and the visitation of Dorset in 1623 gives his pedigree. (2 Miscellanea Genealogica of Heraldica, vol. 2 p. 354.) There may have been a connection between the two families but Christopher was descended from the Levettts from Bolton Percy, and not from the Melton Levettts. (Christopher was Uncle to John (1) of America.)

The pedigree in the Visitations of Dorset begin with "... Levett of Harbord, Co. York" who had three sons, Richard, William, and Percival. This undoubtedly means Harewood, in the West Riding of Yorkshire. William Levett, of Harewood, d. in 1569. A Chancery proceedings was begun by his oldest son, Mathew, in 1570. "Levett v. Levett, Series 2, Bundle 116, No. 40." It recites that by his second wife, William Levett, of Harewood left four sons, Richard, William, Percival, and Charles. These undoubtedly the sons of above mentioned "Levett of Harbord." Percival was the godson and cousin of Francis of Bolton Percy, mentioned in his will of 1614-15.

William of Harewood was probably  the son of William mentioned in the will of his father, Richard, of Bolton Percy, in 1567. This establishes the following pedigree. (See English families Page 15).

The ship "Yorke Bonaventure" in 1623, Capt. Christopher Levett, Master, brought a party of colonists to Casco Bay, Maine. 1630 Ship "Lyon," Christopher Levett is in list of passengers as "transcient." "Planters of the Commonwealth" by C. E. Banks.

Captain Christopher Leavitt, and Robert Gorges, son of Sir Ferdinando, appointed Governor General, were sent to New England in 1623 by the King of England. They started settlements at various places on the coast of Massachusetts, N. H., and Maine, but were obstinately resisted by the sturdy fishermen along the coast, and they all returned to England in the spring of 1624.

N. H. P. P. Vol. 1 p. 52-53-54-55. LEVETT'S VOYAGE. By Hon. S. D. Bell of Exeter. A voyage into New England begun in 1623 and ended in 1624; performed by Christopher Levett, His Majesty's Woodward, of Somersetshire, and one of the Council of New-England. This report was printed by Me. Hist. Soc. II, p. 73, a copy of the original report of Christopher Levett which was printed in 1628.

"To the Right Honorable George, Duke of Buckingham; His Grace, Thomas, Earl of Arundel and Surrey; Robert, Earl of Warwick; John, Earl of Holderness; and the rest of the Council for New-England."

"May it please your Lordships that whereas you granted your commission unto Capt. Robert Gorges, Governor of New-England, Capt. Francis West, myself, and the Governor of New Plymouth, as counsellors with him for the ordering and governing of all the said territories, wherein we have been diligent to the utmost of our powers, as we shall be ready to render an account unto your honors when you shall be pleased to require us thereunto. In the meantime I thought it my duty to present to your views such observations as I have taken, &c.

CHAPTER I. "The first place I set my foot upon in New-England was the Isle of Shoals, being islands in the sea about two leagues from the main. Upon these islands I neither could see one good timber tree, nor so much good ground as to make a garden. The next place I came unto was Pannaway, where one M. Thomson hath made plantation. There I stayed about one month, in which time I sent for my men from the east, who came over in divers ships. At this place I met with the governor who came thither in a bark which he

 (There was also a branch of the Levetts at Holme and Lund, in the East Riding, in which Mathew and William were family names. It may be that William, of Harewood, came from this line, but their wills do not indicate this, and the mention of a godson Percival Levett in the will of Francis Levett seems to connect the line of Christopher, with the Bolton Percy family.)

had from one M. Weston, about twenty days before I arrived in the land.

"The Governor then told me that I was joined with him in commission as counsellor, which, being read, I found it was so. And then he, in the presence of three more of the council, administered unto me an oath.

"In the time I stayed with M. Tomson I surveyed as much as possible I could, the weather being unseasonable, and very much snow. About two English miles further to the east I found a great river and a good harbor, called Pascattaway," &c.

Capt. Levett's account is sustained by Gov. Bradford. See Morton N. E. Memorial. Or see N. H. P. P. vol. I, p. 53. See Appendix of vol. 25, ps. 667-668-669, give full record of Captain Levett's visit to Mr. Thomson. "Levett's design was to establish a city at some eligible spot along the New England coast, to be named York after the Metropolitan city in England, and to found there, in all pomp and circumstance, a full prelatical establishment over all New England. Capt. Levett was an officer in the royal navy, high in favor at court, and of much distinction in the old country. He stayed at Pannaway about a month during the early spring of 1624, awaiting the arrival of his men, to begin his search along the coast for some suitable site for his projected city.

"While Levett still remained at Pannaway, Governor Robert Gorges arrived there with a considerable company. Robert Gorges was son of Sir Ferdinando Gorges and 'like his father' of an active, enterprising, genius, and had newly returned from the Venetian war. He came out with a commission under the Great Seal, appointing him 'Lieutenant General' and Governor of New England, and designating Capt. Christopher Levett, as one of his council. It was at Pannaway that the ceremony of installing Levett into this high office was performed by Gov. Gorges, assisted by three others of his Council, and in the presence of all the people, no doubt, then at the plantation. We may be sure that this ceremony, to which it was desirable to give as much distinction and publicity as possible, was performed in a most imposing manner on that great and stirring day in the annals of Pannaway." (Much is given in this vol. about early settling of N. H.). The History of Boothbay, Me. states that Capt. Christopher Leavitt had 6000 acres of land there. "Portland By The Sea" by Moulton, 1926 p. 27 shows a picture of Capt. Levett steering his shallop into Diamond River 1623.

In Hist. of Hudson, N. H. Sagamore Indians: "Passacounaway, chief of the Penacooks, a man of mark in his time." *First heard of this chief was in 1627-28, and it is possible that he was met by Christopher Levett in the neighborhood of Pascataqua in 1623.

After the first voyage of Capt. Christopher Levett to New England, along the Maine coast, he became dissatisfied with the glowing reports of former explorers and wrote home: "Nor will the deare come when they are called, or stand still and looke on a man, until he shoot him, not knowing a man from a beast, nor the fish leape into the kettle." (See "The Real Founders of New Eng." by Bolton 1929. Levett's signature on p. 68. Very interesting article about Christopher). From Maine Early History notes: "Christopher Levett came to Yorke, Maine, in 1623 to found an Episcopal See. He intended to name the place Yorke. After building the first house at Casco Bay, Me. he returned to England for his family. No doubt something prevented him from a second voyage until 1629, when he gave deed of his property to a man named Cleaves."

John of Hingham, being his nephew and a run-a-way, possibly Christopher had a secret ambition in his voyage of 1629. However both are mentioned as having gone aboard the ship, Arabella, to greet Governor Winthrop in 1630.

Mary E. Leavitt of N. H. tells of a family tradition (which has often been repeated by other branches) that John descended from Lord Lovett of Scotland, but the theory was later disproved.

N. H. Hist. Rms. a booklet by Victor Sanborn, a Leavitt descendant: "Leavitts of England." Mr. Sheldon Leavitt, Jr. has had a search made at the College of Arms, the results of which he had allowed me to peruse. It appears that there are about five Levett families among English Armorial families: (1) Levetts of Normanton and Melton. (2) The family of Christopher Levett. (3) The Levetts of Straffordshire, descended from William Levett of Savernake, Wilts, through Sir Richard Levitt, Lord Mayor of London in 1707. (4) The Levetts of Sussex. (5) The Levetts of Chester.

Early Leavitts who visited America but may have returned to England: In deeds of Boston vol. 5, p. 47: William Levet, a merchant of sugar, July 1666. A Roger Leavitt is said to have lived at Boston, Mass. as early as 1700. He owned a ship and brought silks from Paris to Boston. His ship was lost and all his goods at sea. He lived here until 1720 married and had a son.

Vital r-s of Boston: George Levit of Great Britain md. to Annie Paden in America 3 Dec. 1720. Boston r-s vol. 28, Roxbury, Mass. Daniel Levitt, and James Levit both of Roxbury took oath of allegiance 21 Apr. 1679. (None of these seem to fit into lines of Thomas or John).

NOTES FROM N. H. STATE LIBRARY HISTORIES

"Levetts had lived at Normanton for many centuries. In the church is a tomb erected to Elizabeth Levett, founder of the girls' school here. A branch of this family settled at Melton and here was found in the old church, founded by Henry I, a stained window bearing the Levett coat of arms. At Melbourne House in Derbyshire a number of letters written by Christopher Levett to Sec. Coke, were found, which told of the life and doings of Christopher.

“When John Winthrop landed at Salem, Mass. 1630 he was met by Gov. John Endicott, and Christopher Levett, who went aboard his ship to welcome him. When he died at sea his wife, Frances, was administrator of his effects which were brought back by the ship in which he sailed.

“The Levetts favored letters and Christopher wrote two books and ‘his son,’ Jeremy (really his sister Mercy’s son), graduated at Cambridge and became a preacher. His nephew, John, was an author. (This may mean nephew of Jeremy. Unless records are in error his only nephew was John (1) of Hingham, Mass. U. S. A. who was not an author).”

“In the section where Christopher lived was an Inn called the Levett Inn. He lived at Sherborne, Dorsetshire, 1618 and was employed in the Royal Forests. His wife, Frances Lottisham, was dau. of Oliver. The council for New England voted to grant Christopher 6000 acres of land to be chosen by himself in the new world. He intended to build a city on his land and call it York after his native city. In 1605 King James granted a patent to William Levett, the uncle of Christopher, to collect tolls at the St. Mary’s and the Friars bridges. But for some reason the patent was not used until 1618 when Levett began to enforce his rights. William continued to collect tolls until 1628. Christopher wrote a book, ‘A Voyage to New England’ and he was the first Englishman to own soil where now stands the city of Portland, Me. The present Co. of York, Me. may have been named by him.”

‘The Parish church at Shere, Co. Surrey, Eng. has many dates of burials and marriages.

Data concerning his last voyage to proceedings begun 1631 by his wife against Thomas Wright and Robert Caygh, of Bristol owners of ship Porcupine. Gives in detail sailing agreements and mentions 6000 acres of land to Levett.

Many of the names of this family are carried on in the American families of John, all but three in his immediate family and they appear in the next generation, also the names Jeremiah and Timothy appear in both the English and American families of this branch. The registers of England were thoroughly combed for John's ancestors and the following is the only family which seems probable.

HERALDRY

The "Lion" ranks first among animals employed in heraldry and is supposed to symbolize nobleness of nature, courage, and generosity.

The Latin motto of the Levett Coat of Arms bearing the "Lion" "Mens Conscia Recti" one record describes its meaning: "The mind conscious of right laughs at the calumnies of evil men." Another record states: "A mind capable of concentration."

From book of Heraldry Nov. 1817: "Salhurst in Sussex. Levitt arms; Semee of Cross, crosslets, fitches, a lion sable, of holding a cross, crosslet fitches of the first. Granted 1 Dec. 1607."

Heraldry dates from the Crusades, and was changed to the present system by the French. In early days ignorance of written words made it necessary to use the coat of arms on deeds, wills, and other public papers.

Abuses in use of coats of arms in early part of sixteenth century made necessary to the Herald's visitations, the reason of which was to control, confirm, and record such bearings as were in use lawfully. Those who can deduce descent from an ancestor whose coat of arms have been acknowledged by such a visitation are entitled to carry same by right of inheritance.

Today an instinctive sense of reverence for our forefathers impels most of us to a fuller knowledge of our family history. Its use is a faithful chronicler in shorthand of the pedigrees of our gentle families and is becoming in modern times more appreciated. One eminent authority remarked that a man who is not proud of his ancestry will never leave anything for which his posterity may be proud of him. Honors of heraldry have been almost exclusively rewards of genius, valor, patriotism, or industry. They should be continued in use by descendants of those who bore them, and to impart to the names an additional lustre to which new generations can point with pride. To be authentic coats of arms should be painted in their true colors and done with utmost care and precision.

The crowned lion and fleur de lis are strictly French.

"MEN KHEPER RA" (Royal Scarab)

"Pronomen of Thothmes III who reigned 1577 B. C. or 54 yrs. in all, followed by his son, Amenhotep II.

"The Scarab was a sacred object, not a trivial thing. The most recent scarab that we may pick up is, however, more than 2000 yrs. old; and then we may find other scarabs of the early pyramid builders of 6000 yrs. ago. Therefore any scarab we now find may thus become a portable historical document or record of the past of a people who possessed a literature 5000, or according to Prof. Petrie, 7000 yrs. ago.

“About the time scarabs lost their religious aspect, or went out of fashion, money came into use in Egypt—that is, after the Persian period, 500 B. C. and almost ceased to exist. As long as the old Egyptian faith existed the figure of scarabeus was considered by its votaries as the sign of their religion, much in the way the cross became the symbol of Christianity.

“Relative to the scroll or ornament borders used on so many scarabs, it is much more likely that these involved scrolls or twists were a secret form of religious symbols a sacred writing whose clue is lost, but may one day be re-discovered. These scarab scrolls were worn during life and buried with their owners, male and female, as precious relics to be used again in that future state of existence to which all ancient Egyptians believed they had a surety.

“Scarabs were not cut or used during the Hyksos period, extending from 2266 B. C. to 1700 B. C. or while Egypt was under control of those hordes not Egyptian by birth.” (By Chas Mauer).

Possibly the scroll beneath the crest of English or French coats of arms might have a similar meaning. (A scarab was a bug in form of a broach).

JOHN'S ARRIVAL, NAME OF SHIP

John Leavitt of Hingham, Massachusetts, was certainly the first by this name to settle in America and to bequeath American soil to his progeny.

Authors disagree as to the time of his arrival and name of the ship he sailed on. Names of four different ships are given by as many authors. "The Colonial Ancestors" states: "John Leavitt of Hingham, arrived in the ship "The Dilligent" in 1634. This is disproved since his name does not appear in the list of passengers." *Also from the fact that he boarded the ship Arbella on which Gov. Winthrop arrived in 1630, to greet him. "Winthrop Fleet" by Banks, pub. by Houghton & Mifflin 1930: "They landed 8 Apr. 1630." A partial list of its passengers given but no Leavitt.

Among items of food supply on this ship: "42 'tuns' " of beer (10,000 gals.); 14 tuns drinking water; two hogsheads of "syder;" 600 lbs. of "Hadlidyne" (salt cod); 20,000 biscuits; 40 bu. dried peas; 11½ bu. mustard seed. They caught a supply of fresh fish on Grand Banks. No lights for passengers, to bed at sunset. 4 "lanthornes, six doz. candles for crew."

Several early authors believe he sailed on the "Mary & John" 20 Mar. 1630 for Massachusetts Bay Colony, this ship owned by Roger Ludlow. The passengers settled at Dorchester Neck, Rev. John White of Dorchester, Eng. as sponsor. 150 persons from Dorset, Somerset, and Devon. Nearly a complete list of its passengers are given but no Leavitt.

"Members of the First Church of Dorchester came in this ship 1629-30. They embarked from Plymouth, Eng. and were gathered" (see above).

"Saco Valley Settlements and Families" states: "John Leavitt arrived with the Pilgrims 1620." He was then aged twelve. In the "History of Ancient Woodbury, Conn." "John Leavitt came to New England and Settled in Dorchester in 1628." This is without doubt the truth. No doubt given to the author of above book by the early descendants of John, who settled early in this part of Conn.

The Dudley Genealogy states: "John ran away from an apprenticeship at age of 19." This is generally understood by all early authors and by family tradition. It is also reasonable to believe he would be under the age of 21 if still an apprentice. Being born 1608 he would have been of age in 1629, thus the date of 1628 is without doubt the year John Leavitt arrived in America. To explain: Boys were bound or articulated by indenture to serve a certain number of years to learn a trade and were usually freed when they became of age (then 21).

Such boys might not be at liberty to sail away prior to their 21st birthday. If they did the Captain and boy must keep the secret, so would not be found on the passenger list. Early ships' records were very poorly kept. Many of them have never been published. Most of them now available come from persons looking up data of English-American ancestors. The theory that John was born in Scotland no doubt springs from the Dudley Genealogy.

The "History of Turner, Maine," carries a sketch written by the great-grand-daughter of Jacob Leavitt (5), Caroline W. D. Rich. "I find by records of Washington, D. C.; Pembroke, Mass.; (from whence Jacob emigrated) Hingham, Dorchester, Plymouth, and Boston, Mass. we trace the line of John Leavitt back to Teutons of England and find that Sire John came to New England in 1628, from Kent." She gave no references for the latter statement.

"History of Rockingham Co. N. H." states: "His master came from England and took away his little property in Dorchester so Deacon John went to Hampton and Exeter, N. H. for a time." This statement has possibilities. He may have visited his relative, Thomas of Hampton, and it may be the reason of his five sons settling in and near Exeter. It may be where he found his first wife supposed to be a Mary "Lovett." Thomas used this spelling, and Mary may have been his sister.

"History of Whatcom Co. Wash." states: "Descendants of the emigrant, John Leavitt, claim he came to America in the Mayflower." Various branches of the Leavitt lines carry this same tradition. Naturally this tradition gave the impression he came with the Pilgrims in 1620. (See data by John H. Leavitt). John H. was b. 1824 and his father in 1785, the latter a prominent attorney, Hooker Leavitt (5), son of Rev. Jonathan, the famous preacher. This was a very intelligent branch of the John line and no doubt had the correct name of the ship their ancestor arrived on. Hooker's grandfather was living before the death of John (1) so by word of mouth probably received the story from John himself. Thus the story traveled but a short way to reach the writer born in 1824. This is the earliest record found as to name of the ship and date that John arrived. This ship made several trips to America after 1620.

The Dudley Genealogy traces the Leavitts back to the Norman Conquest. The first printed notice of John appears in a book, "Early Dorchester:" "John Leavitt's name first appears in Mattapan year of 1630." Charles Mauer found his name recorded at Hingham as early as 1634 so it seems he must have lost his estate at Dorchester that year, and also that he did not stay long at Hampton and Exeter. From New England Genealogical and Antiquarian Register p. 389: Old Dorchester, Mass. "Few except students in the History of N. E. are aware, probably, that Dorchester was settled before Boston, or even Charlestown. When many most Godly & Religious people, in ye reign of King Charles ye first, did under ye incouragement of a Charter granted by ye Sd. King Charles, A. D. 1628, Remoue themselves & their Families into ye Colony of ye Mass. Bay in New England. Then it was that the first inhabitants of Dorchester came ouer, & were ye first Company or church Society that arrived here, next ye Town of Salem who was one year before them." Probably John Leavitt was among these. It is the only record the author found of a ship's arrival in 1628.

"In the year 1629, Divers Godly Persons in Devonshire, Somersetshire, Dorcetshire & other places proposed a Remoue to N. England, among whom were two Famous ministers, viz: Mr. John Maverick (who I suppose was somewhat advanced in age) & Mr. John Wareham (I suppose a younger man) then a preacher in the city of Exon, or Exeter, in ye County of Devon etc.—They set sail from Plymouth ye 20th March 1629-30, in a large ship of 400 Tons, one Capt. Squeb master, & arrived at Nantasket (now Hull) ye 30th May 1630. etc—

"They began their settlement here at Mattapan ye beginning of June, as I suppose or thereabouts, A. D. 1630 & changed ye name into Dorchester. Our people were settled here a Month or two before Gov. Winthrop & ye ships that came with him arrived at Charlestown, so that Dorchester Plantation was settled next to ye Town of Salem, being before Charlestown or Boston. The Indians here were kind to our people."

HEREDITY AND ENVIRONMENT

Genealogy is a most democratic study but pride of ancestry has little to commend it. Knowledge of one's ancestors is most desirable only to enable us to emulate and retain their virtues, and to discard their defects and imperfections. Hereditary influences are ever operating; environment may modify them, for better or worse, but cannot wholly eradicate them from our human natures. The blood of our ancestors flows in our veins; to understand ourselves we must understand them; who they were and what they were.

A goodly number of American Leavitts chose the study of the human body, or that other great profession, the study of the soul. It leads one to believe he inherits a tendency towards the vocation of his ancestors as well as family resemblance and physique. Although John and Thomas (the two first American Leavitts) had a common ancestor (they carried the same coat of arms and only direct descendants inherit them) their progeny chose very different professions. Environment no doubt shaped their lives to a certain degree, but heredity surely played its part in their choice of professions.

The introduction of new blood by marriage would in time change the Leavitt blood somewhat but it is amazing to note how many generations resemble each other. Many such appear in the photographs received by the author. There are two distinct types that follow the line of John regularly: one type being tall, broad shouldered, and very blond. The other type are quite dark as to hair and beautiful prominent almost black eyes, medium to short of stature and thick set. But the vocation of the two lines are quite different.

The line of John practice medicine and dentistry, many were preachers, some became famous preachers and there still are famous preachers. Others made great headway in astrology and astronomy.

In the line of Thomas we find none who study the stars. Although there are doctors and ministers they are not plentiful and none were famous in these lines. Descendants of Thomas became merchants and Inn keepers and still are. They were daring soldiers and leaders of men, famous lawyers. Many held high office during the Revolutionary War, the Civil War, and Indian Wars. In the Revolution were a family of six brothers, General Moses; Col. Thomas; Captain Benjamin; Captain Carr, Simon a drummer; and Jeremiah a private.

To show the power of environment: one branch of John's who settled early in Maine followed the fisherman's trade and several generations were fishermen. Their descendants degenerated and many families strayed far from the fold. The adage that blood will tell proved true for often one son would leave his sordid surroundings and emigrate to a foreign state and make good. (Do not confuse this branch with other Maine branches whose descendants were very fine people).

Scarcely a divorce entered either line of Leavitts of early families for the first six generations then they began creeping into both lines.

LEAVITTS OF AMERICA

In N. H. Vital Records I find the first American ancestor of the Irish Leavitt families who lived at Littleton, Manchester, and Laconia, N. H. "Thomas Leavitt b. in County of Kerry, Ireland, 1812 was son of Christopher Leavitt of England and whose mother was born in Ireland. Thomas lived at Laconia, N. H. for 48 yrs. and d. here 6 Apr. 1900." There is little doubt he came from the explorer Christopher Leavitt line. I did not carry on this line as they were emigrants not long ago and can be easily traced through N. H. re-s.

They may be from same branch as the Irish Leavitts who settled at Chicago in the early 1800s. One of these was named Christopher.

JOHN LEAVITT 1608-1691

In the manuscripts of Joseph Parker Leavitt (7) in the Chicago Historical Building much of the material on John was copied from the Hingham History, and some of it does not state its source. Joseph had written the records into books with pen and ink, very fine easily readable penmanship. There were sixteen books, one for each generation and one for biography and notes. In the vault was a tin box containing about a thousand letters from Leavitts or descendants.

A motto appeared on the first page of his first book:

“Guard well thy faith, keep true thy heart,
Hold thou thine honor fast;
Thus be the lustre of thy worth,
Back on thy fathers cast.”

“John Leavitt, the ancestor of all the Leavitts in America, was among the first Planters in Massachusetts. He was born in England,” (later this word was crossed out and the word, Scotland substituted) “in 1608. Tradition tells us he came to Massachusetts in 1628, when he was about 19 years old, and fixed his residence in Dorchester, near where Roxbury St. is now.

“He was a runaway apprentice, by trade a tailor, and by birth a Scotchman. After he had become possessed of some property in Dorchester, his Master learned of his whereabouts, and came to this Country and took from him his possessions, as by law he was allowed to.

“In 1636 and 1637 a number of lots were granted to John Leavitt at Hingham, Mass. (See the town Great Grant Book, Folio 97,) and again in yrs. of 1647; 1648; and 1665.

“Dea. John Leavitt was buried in the ancient burying ground where now (1846) is the highway in front of the Academy”

There has been some controversy as to whether the bones of John were removed and now lie beneath the tombstone which his great-great-grandson, Jacob (5) son of John (4), placed beside the family tomb in the Plain Burying Ground, or do they still lie buried beneath the highway. Dr. Charles Howard of Hingham, a descendant of John, says the bones of all in that cemetery were removed to the old Armory and there buried without stones.

Beside the stone is an emblem placed there by the Ancestors Society of Colonial Wars, and another in his memory placed there by the National Society of Leavitt Families of America.

His tombstone is legible and reads: “Here lyeth buried ye body of Deacon John Leavitt, aged 83 yrs. Died November ye 20, 1691.”

We know that John Leavitt (1) began his real American pilgrimage in Hingham as early as 1636. “History of Hingham.”

"When Peter Hobart first came with his little band of Colonists to 'Bare Cove' in 1635 he found several of his friends who had settled there in 1633.

"Bare Cove was assessed in 1634. The 'Plantation' was erected in July 1635. On Sept 2nd following the town was changed to Hingham by authority of the General Court. There were but eleven towns in the state and only one in the county of Plymouth, which is older than Hingham.

"On Sept. 12, 1635 Peter Hobart and 29 others drew for house lots and received grants of pasture. In that year specific grants of land were made to upwards of fifty persons and this method was followed for many years, but as the Colony increased in size and the people spread along the shore it was deemed advisable to survey and lay out the unappropriated portions of the township, to be divided among the settlers in proportion to the number of acres which they had in their house lots.

"This led to the establishment of numerous land marks, many of which are recognized up to the present time and their names, often quaint, will be handed down to posterity long after their significance is forgotten.

"Who was the first settler in Hingham it is impossible to say, or at what date he came. Mr. Solomon Lincoln, who wrote an interesting and valuable book, a History of Hingham, a small volume of 183 pages of which 300 copies were printed in 1827, gives and first mentions John Leavitt's name during the year (do not confuse above book with the later two volumes by another Lincoln) 1636, who settled or received a grant of land at that time, which was founded by grants of John Parker, Joseph Hull, William Carlyle, and the training field on Leavitt Street, in the vicinity of the locality known as 'over the Delaware,' Weir River is crossed by Leavitt Bridge."

In Suffolk deeds he is called, "Sergeant John Leavitt." Vol 7 Boston deeds, p. 162; Joshua Hobart, John "levet," with Lieut. John Smith and Nathaniel Baker buy 15 miles square of the Indians 4 Apr. 1666 and granted 17 June 1661. P. 164. said tract of land was called the Indian Twunkkec, lying and being beyond the town of Providence, and near the Narragansett Country, in New England. John had at time of his will, 1689, an eighth part of this land in his possession. They also, these three men, later purchased another tract of land, from the Indians, of six miles square lying and being near to the former tract of land above mentioned, and is called by the name of Penycooke, and having a third part of the said land of six sq. miles, in his possession in 1689.

John sold a house and lot at Dorchester, Mass. 3 Mar. 1635-6 to Thomas Makepeace.

(Many believe three brothers came from England to America, John, Thomas, and one other, but this is an error. No data found concerning a brother to either. This comes from the belief in the Trinity and the superstition that good luck follows a three.)

In 1634 Dorchester, Mass. towns first book of records, p. II: John Niles, Francis Tuthill, John Leavitt, Thomas Rawlins, and others shall have 3 acres apiece upon the Neponsett.

3 Nov. 1634: It is ordered that John Niles, Francis Tuchine, John Leavitt, Thomas Rawlins, and others, shall each of them have six acres of land granted them for their small and part lots at Neponsett betwixt Indian Field and the Mill.

1665, July 3, at a public meeting of the Town, Josiah, Indian Sagamore, upon the sale of the township of Hingham, to the inhabitants of Hingham, desire that Dea. John Leavitt should have ten acres of land upon the north side of Turkey Hill next to the land of Thomas Nichols, and at the same time, the town by a general vote, to grant that the said John Leavitt should have ten acres of land upon the same place, and accordingly it was layed out unto him bounded by the land of Thomas Nichols, Southward, and with the Town's land, eastward, west, north, which is to have and to hold to him and his heirs and assigns forever. (Grant Book, fol. 97).

In the History of Hingham by Lincoln it gives the reason, in the Lincoln section, why the Indian favored John, and granted him this extra land. It seems that John had looked after the burial of the Chief's mother.

In the records of the First Church of Dorchester, Mass. we find John was made a freeman in 1634. His name was spelled with an "a." Thomas of Hampton, N. H. name was usually spelled "Lovet." In England it was spelled "Lovet" and "Levet." In early times the "o" and "e" differed only by the kink at their top and with poor penmanship were easily confused. Descendants of both lines after the first few generations spelled it as it is spelled today, Leavitt.

Mr. Grus of Salem wrote in 1627: "The country is very beautiful;—goodly woods and open plains, often 500 acres, some more and some less. Not much troublesome to clear for the plough. The grass and weeds grow up to a man's face. In the lowlands and by fresh rivers there are great meadows without a tree or bush."

Thus it is evident that the first settlers in Hingham did not have to cut down the forest to clear the land before they could plant.

The homestead of John Leavitt was on Leavitt Street, the grant extending from Weir River in an easterly direction to Turkey Hill near the Cohasset County line. Much of this property was mostly owned as late as 1827 by his descendants through his sons, Israel and Josiah. (There is little doubt these were the two sons who built the frame house. John mentions his "house" in his will. Log cabins often had several rooms and may also have been called a house).

"Going eastward from Leavitt Street to Turkey Hill Lane, which leads up over three elevated eminences, one reaches the summit of Turkey Hill. At the first bend, to the right of the lane, are remains of what was once a ledge or boulder about 12 ft. high, with rounded top. This was "Great Rock" and upon its surface was chiseled the following:

"When wild in woods the naked savage ran,
Lazell, Low, Loring, Lane, Lewis, Lincoln,
Hersey, Leavitt, Jacobs, King, Jones, Sprague,
Stemmed the wild torrent of a barbarous age,
And were the first invaders of this country,
From the island of Great Britain in 1636."

"Hosea Sprague probably cut this inscription on 4 July 1828. Unhappily in 1833 the rock was blown to pieces and sold for building purposes.

"From Turkey Hill, during the war of 1812, people viewed the Naval battle between the 'Shannon' and 'Chesapeake.' "

John Leavitt (1) b. 1608 in England. d. 20 Nov. 1691 at Hingham, Mass. U. S. A. m. 1st Mary Lovet in 1637. d. 4 July 1646. She may have been a sister to Thomas Leavitt of Hampton, N. H. Her m. to John was later than the date that Thomas arrived. Records say John went to Dover, and Exeter, N. H. for a time after his Master took away his estate in 1634-5. Thomas lived at first at Exeter. His interest in these towns and the fact that his sons settled here later may come from his marriage to Thomas' sister. First cch. Dorchester r-s: "Mary Lovett a member before 1639" (3 yrs. after she md. John). Perhaps Mary was not a Lovet until after her marriage to John and an error was simply repeated time after time. "The Colonial Ancestor" says "he md. first Mary Lovitt." (There was a family of Lovet at Salem, Mass. about 1630. See Hist. of Salem.)

John m. 2nd Sarah Gilman, dau. of Edward and Mary (Clark) Gilman who were the first by this name to arrive in America. (See Gilman Gen. herein.) They md. 16 Dec. 1646. She was b. 19 Jan. 1622 at Caston, Eng. d. 26 May 1700. (Gen. of Me. vol. 2. p. 1020 reads: "Sara, wife of Dea. John Leavitt was bpt. 26 Dec. 1617." This is exact date of b. of her brother, Edward.) (Col. Anc. says she was b. 19 July 1622).

Some doubt that John md. the dau. of Edward Gilman. Bell's Hist. of Exeter, N. H. states: "John Leavitt, son-in-law of Edward Gilman, of Hingham, Mass., received a grant of land in Exeter, N. H. 8 July 1652." Savage says: "John Leavitt went to Exeter, N. H. or Dover, N. H. in 1645." (See Gilman Gen. herein).

John was declared a freeman 15 Dec. 1636 meaning a church member. Only freemen could hold office or vote for rulers. The freeman's oath bound him to be a true and faithful subject of the government, and if called upon he was to yield assistance and support thereon with his person and estate.

He was a town officer and from 1658 to 1664 was a deputy. He was a Deacon of the church. "3 May 1680 Deacon John was one of those men, who, in Town Meeting, declared themselves by word, to have the new Meeting House set up in the place where the old one stood."

John was a representative to the General Court in 1656 and again in 1664. Selectman in yrs. of 1661, 63, 65, 68, 72, 74, and 75. He was frequently employed in town business, He was a Magistrate which meant a member of the Governor's Council.

The frame house on Leavitt Street, Hingham, Mass. his descendants say was built in 1712. The cellar stairs came from John's log cabin, made from squared logs split edgewise making two stairs from one log. It is said to be on same site as his cabin. Family legend says this house now standing was built by two of his grandsons. There were but two who would be likely to have built it, sons of Israel and Josiah. While both families had sons old enough to have built it I find but two who remained upon the old home place, Elisha, s. of Israel, and his brother John. Tradition also says two brothers built the house and lived in it all their days. Hezekiah lived on part of the estate but there is nothing to prove he lived in the old home. John's will states Josiah owned his own house on John's land. Hingham History says Elisha raised his family in the old home. John lived on Leavitt St. and all of his children were born there. Descendants of John (4-3) were also raised in the old home. The history says he lived at ancestral home on Leavitt St. Sons of Elisha lived on North St. Hingham.

In the index of "Ancestors Society of Colonial Wars" are mentioned these names: John Leavitt 1608-1691; Charles E. Adams; Lyman L. Brooks; Charles I. Cragin; Howard K. James; Richard Leavitt James; Phineas Hubbard; and Phillip Ashton Rollins.

By virtue of descent from John (1) of Hingham, Mass. descendants are eligible to membership in "The Founders and Patriots of America" as well as several other Colonial Societies.

Descendants of his son, Moses, of Exeter, N. H. are eligible to membership in: "The Society of Colonial Wars," "Society of Colonial Dames" and various other similar societies. Through his wife, Dorothy Dudley, descendants are eligible to join "The Governor Thomas Dudley Family Association;" "Descendants of Royal Families" and similar societies. For Revolutionary War ancestor which makes one eligible to "Daughters (or Sons) of American Revolution" see head of families in the 4th and 5th generations and a few in the 6th. (See Dudley families herein).

THE WILL OF DEACON JOHN LEAVITT (1)

In the name of God, Amen.

I, John Leavitt, of Hingham, in the County of Suffolk, in New England, Taylor, being in health of body and of perfect mind and memory, praised be God for the same, do make and declare this my last will and Testament, in manner and form, following:

First and Principally: I commit and command my soul unto the hands of Almighty God and my body to the earth, to be decently buried at the discretion of my Executor hereafter to be named, hoping for salvation both of soul and body, by the mercy of God in the merits of my Savior, Jesus Christ. And for, and concerning the disposing of my temporal Estate, I do give and bequeath it as follows: (to witt) My mind and will is that all my just debts, which I owe to any Person, or Persons, whatsoever, shall be first paid, and my funeral charges and Probate of my Will discharged out of my personal Estate by my Executor hereafter named.

Item. I give and bequeath unto Sarah Leavitt, my well beloved wife all the rest of and residue and remainder of my Personal Estate, (to witt); all my moveable estate and all my household stuff, and all my other goods, chattel, and Chattels, whatsoever, for her own use and benefit, to dispose of them as she pleases. Item: I give and bequeath unto the said Sarah Leavitt my wife, after my decease, the uses of all the house and lands, meadows and commons which I now have, and am possessed of in the said Town ship of Hingham, either by gift or purchase, or that I shall be possessed of in the said township of Hingham, at the day of my death, for and during the term of her natural life, for her comfortable maintainance.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my grandchild, Samuel Judkins, the sum of fourteen pounds, to be paid unto him by my son, Josiah Leavitt, within one year after decease of the said, Sarah Leavitt, my wife, and to be paid in Country pay (viz) that which is the growth of the Country.

Item: My mind and will is that after the decease of the said Sarah Leavitt my wife, my above said whole estate of houses and lands, meadows and commons in said Hingham; And also what moveable estate that my said wife shall not have disposed of in her life time, shall then be valued and equally divided to my nine children, as to the quantity of my estate, (to witt) to my son Samuel Leavitt, Israel Leavitt, Moses Leavitt, Josiah Leavitt, Nehemiah Leavitt, and to my daughter, Sarah Howe, the wife of Samuel Howe, and my daughter Mary Bate, the wife of Benjamin Bate, and my daughter Hannah Loring, the wife of Joseph Loring, Abigail Leavitt, the wife of Israel Lazell, except the said fourteen pounds, before hereby bequeathed to the above said Samuel Judkins, which said fourteen pounds my mind is shall be deducted from the estate before division of the said estate and the rest of the estate then to be divided into nine parts as aforesaid to be added to the estate of Josiah Leavitts ninth part for him to pay the said sum of fourteen pounds to the above said Samuel Judkins—but in case the said Judkins shall not live till the time of payment of the fourteen pounds, before mentioned, then my mind and Will is, that the said fourteen pounds shall be divided amongst my said children, as the rest of my estate is to be divided.

And whereas, I lent to my daughter, Sarah How when she was a widow and called by the name of Sarah Clap, the sum of five pounds and ten shillings in money, my mind and will is that the said five pounds and ten shillings shall be reckoned and accounted to her as a part of her proportion of my estate, when estate shall come to be divided:—

And whereas the said estate being to be divided into nine parts will make my sons and daughters portion equal upon consideration of what I have done for, and given to my daughters upon their marriage, my mind and will is that my four daughters shall pay each of them, five pounds apeece, (which makes twenty pounds) to my grandchild John Leavitt, the son of my said son Israel Leavitt out of each of their ninth parts of my estate, which said twenty pounds I do hereby give and bequeath to the said John Leavitt, to be paid to him by my said four daughters, in Country pay, (viz) that which is the growth of the Country; after the said estate shall be divided and their parts set out to them, and they to pay the said twenty pounds to the said John Leavitt, each of them, their own part within six months after the decease of my said wife, and which of these two times shall come last.

And whereas it is said before, in this my will that my said estate after the death of my said wife shall be divided into nine equal parts as the quantity of my estate—yet, nevertheless, my mind and will to settle some of my lands to two of my sons, as follows; that is to say, I do give and bequeath unto my son Israel Leavitt a good part of my Home land where he, the said Israel Leavitt now dwelleth, (to witt) from the River till it come within two rods of the Leanto, that join to the Eastward end of my Barn, as it now standeth, and to run across my land from the water next the lane to the land of Thomas Sayer, upon a square line, and to have all that my land from the said line to the River Eastward, both upland and meadow as it is bounded with the line Northward, and with the land of Simon Burr and Thomas Sayer, Southward, and toward the West with the said cross line that is to be ten (troo's) rods to the Eastward of the said Leanto.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my son Israel Leavitt, a piece of my great Lot, lying on the Eastward side of the River, (to witt) all that piece of upland which he have fenced in, and have now in his occupation; and the piece of meadow joyning to it, which he now have cleared, (viz.) all the said land and meadow lying within the said fence: also I give unto the said Israel Leavitt another piece of land joining to the former piece of land, (to wit) all that piece of land in which he goeth to the former piece of land and meadow, as it is now bounded with the other piece of land before hereby given to him, toward the west with my pasture as it is now fenced towards the South and with the Swamp Land of my son Josiah Leavitt, toward the North, and with the Common land toward the East, upon condition that he, the said Israel Leavitt, his heirs and assigners shall from time to time, and at all times forever set up and forever maintain a sufficient fence on the north side of the said piece of land between the said piece of land and Josiah Leavitt's Swamp Land; and the said Israel Leavitt shall not make any ways to his land through any other part of my great Lot, but shall keep within the bounds of his own land.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my son Israel Leavitt four of my shares of the Commons, (viz.) four shares of the undivided Lands in the said Township of Hingham, provided always, and it is my mind and will that when the estate shall be appraised after the death of my wife, that if the said Lands, Meadows and Commons last above mentioned and given to the said Israel Leavitt shall then be prized at more than the said Israel's ninth part of my estate shall come to, that the said Israel Leavitt shall pay the overplus of the value of the said land and Meadow, and Commons to the use of my children towards the making their parts of my estate, and when the said Lands and Commons shall be prized to the said Israel Leavitt, my mind and will is that the House on the Land that Israel now dwell (eth) upon, shall not be prized as my estate, not yet the labor he have bestowed on the other said pieces of land and Meadow in the Great Lot, on the Eastward side of the River; But all the said Lands Meadows and Commons before named, and given in this my last will to the said Israel Leavitt, to be prized as my estate. All which said Lands, Meadows, and Commons, my mind and will is that my said son Israel Leavitt, immediately after the death of my said wife shall have, and hold possess and enjoy, to him and his heirs and assigns forever, provided, he or they shall well and truly pay or cause to be paid the overplus of the value of the said Lands, Meadows and Commons, which shall be more than the ninth part of the said estate, (after the said fourteen pounds be taken out of it) to such of my children as it shall then be ordered for the making up of their part of the said estate. And if he or they shall not presently after the said lands, meadows, and Commons come into his or their hands make satisfaction for the overplus of the value of the said lands, meadows, and commons, to such of my children as it shall be due to be paid unto, that then such of my children shall have so much of the best of the said lands, meadows, and Commons hereby given to the said Israel Leavitt, as the said overplus shall come to, unless they can otherways agree: provided also that if the said lands, meadows, and commons hereby given to the said Israel Leavitt shall not amount to the ninth part of the said estate, after the said fourteen pounds be first deducted from it, that then the said Israel Leavitt shall have his part made up out of the rest of the estate.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my said son Josiah Leavitt, after the death of my said wife, all my great Lot of land lying in said Hingham, containing fifteen acres of land, be it more or less (except) a part of said lot which I have formerly sold to the said Josiah Leavitt and also, except such parts and pieces of the said great lot, given and before mentioned in this my will to my said son Israel Leavitt, the said great lot my said Josiah Leavitt now dwelleth upon, and the said whole great lot is bounded with the river westward, and another River called Rocky Meadow River Southward and with the Common Lands Eastward, and Northward: and my mind and will is that my said son Josiah Leavitt, his heirs and assigns shall set up and forever maintain a sufficient fence on the Northward side of my pasture land between the said pasture land and the said piece of land now given to the said Israel Leavitt lying on the northward side of the said pasture: also, I give and bequeath unto my son Josiah Leavitt, four shares of the Commons, to Wit: four shares of the undivided lands in the said Township of Hingham, provided always, and it is my mind and will that said estate shall be prized after the death of my said wife, that if the said land and Commons above mentioned and given to the said Josiah Leavitt shall then be prized at more than Josiah's ninth part of my estate and the fourteen pounds added to it taken out of the whole before division for him to pay, the same Samuel Judkins shall come to, that then the said Josiah Leavitt shall pay the overplus of the value of the said lands and Commons to the rest of my children towards the making of their parts of the said estate: and when the said Lands and Commons shall be prized to the said Josiah Leavitt, my mind and will is that the Houses now standing upon the great Lot that Josiah Leavitt make use of and dwell in, shall not be prized as my estate, for they are his already, he built them at his own cost and charge by my order and consent, but all the lands and Commons hereby given to him to be prized as my estate, all which said lands and Commons last above mentioned and given to the said Josiah Leavitt, my mind and will is that the said Josiah Leavitt, immediately after the decease of my said wife shall have, hold, possess and enjoy them to him and his heirs and assigns forever, provided he or they shall pay or cause to be paid the overplus of the value of the said Lands and Commons which shall be more than the ninth part of the said estate, and the said fourteen pounds added to it which shall be deducted out of the whole estate before division thereof for him to pay to the Samuel aforesaid.

To such of my children as it shall then be ordered, for the making up their part of the said estate. And if he or they shall not presently after the said lands and Commons come into his or their hands, make satisfaction for the overplus of the value of the said lands and Commons to such of my children as it shall be due to be paid unto, that then such of my children shall have so much of the best of said lands hereby given to the said Josiah Leavitt, as the overplus shall come to, unless he or they can otherwise agree: provided also that the said Josiah Leavitt, his heirs executors, administrators or assigns shall pay or cause to be paid unto the said Samuel Judkin the above said fourteen pounds which I have before given him in this my will in the same place and at the time before mentioned to be paid, which fourteen pounds is to be taken out of the whole estate before the division thereof and to be added to the said Josiah Leavitt's ninth part after the division is made to answer him, the said fourteen pounds that he is to pay to the Samuel Judkin as aforesaid, provided also that if the said lands and Commons hereby given to the said Josiah Leavitt upon the apprizal thereof shall not amount to a ninth part of the said estate, and the above said fourteen pounds also added to it, that he is to pay to the said Samuel Judkin, then he shall have his part made up out of the rest of the estate:—

And further, my mind and will is that when my said estate shall be divided what lands shall go to the rest of my children for their parts of my estate that each of them shall have, hold, possess and enjoy their several parts of such lands to them and their respective heirs and assigns forever, and further my mind and will is that after my lands and meadows that I have in said Hingham, be divided, what lands and Commons or meadows, shall fall to any of my children, if any of the children shall be so minded to sell their parts of such lands, meadows or Commons that then my said son Israel and Josiah Leavitt, or either of them shall have their liberty for three years time to purchase or refuse such lands or meadows.

And further:—my mind and will is that if my said son Israel Leavitt shall at any time be minded to sell the said pieces of land and meadow that I have given to him in this my will, lying in the great Lot aforesaid, that he shall sell them to my son Josiah Leavitt if he will buy them and give the worth thereof. And I do hereby nominate and appoint the above said Sarah Leavitt, my well beloved wife to be the sole executrix of this my last Will and Testament:—

Item: My mind and will is also my earnest desire that my well beloved friends, Daniel Cushing, Senior. Capt. John Smith, Capt. John Jacob, Lieutenant Mathew Cushing and Daniel Cushing Jr. would be helpful to the said Executrix, advise and after her decease I do fully hereby impower my said friends or so many of them as shall be then living to divide my estate and to order to every one of my children and grandchildren aforesaid their several parts and portions of my said estate, in said Hingham, according to this my will and according to their best discretion:—

And whereas, Capt. Joshua Hobart, Lieutenant John Smith and the said John Leavitt heretofore purchased a tract of land fifteen miles square of the Indians which said tract of land is called the Indian Twunkec, lying and being beyond the town of Providence, and near the Narragansett Country in New England:

And having an eighth part of the said tract of land of fifteen miles square still in my hands and in my possession:—

And whereas, the said Capt. Joshua Hobart, and the Lieutenant John Smith and myself did also purchase of the Indians another tract of land six miles square lying and being near to the former tract of land above mentioned, and is called by the name of Penycooke, and having a third part of the said tract of land of six miles square, still in my hand, and in my possession. I do hereby give and bequeath all my parts and proportions to the two said tracts of land, last above mentioned, (to wit) all the estate, right, title and interest which I now have, or ought to have of, in or to the said two tracts of land by virtue of the Deed and evidence of conveyance, which we have from the Indians, unto my said nine children and two grandchildren, that is to say—to my said son Samuel Leavitt, my son Israel Leavitt, and to my son Moses Leavitt, and to my son Josiah Leavitt, and to my son Nehemiah Leavitt, to my daughter, Mary Bate, and to my daughter Sarah How, and to my daughter Hannah Loring, and to my daughter Abigail Lazell, and to my said grandchild John Leavitt, the son of my said son Israel Leavitt and to my said grandchild Samuel Judkin, the above said eleven persons (to wit) my said nine children, my two grandchildren, the last above named to have all my right, title and interest of, in and to the said two tracts of land and to have every one of them, an equal share of them and to enter upon them after my decease:—

And to have, hold, possess and enjoy each of them one eleventh part of my part of all the said two tracts of land, to them and to their several and respective heirs and assigns, forever:—

And my mind and will is they shall at their own costs and charges divide my said parts of the said two tracts of land amongst themselves without any charge or trouble to my Executrix or overseers, and I do hereby revoke, renounce, frustrate and make void all and every testament and testaments, will and wills heretofore by me made and declared, either by word or writing and this only to be taken for my last will and testament, and none other.

Item: Upon consideration, I do give and bequeath unto Bathsheba Turner the wife of Joseph Turner, of Scituate, formerly the wife of my son John Leavitt deceased, the sum of twenty shillings in Country pay, (to wit) that which is of the growth of the Country, to

Rev. Peter Hobart, M. A. gathered the church in Hingham in 1635, it being the twelfth in order of time in Massachusetts. Its present meeting house, which embodies timbers from its first, was built in 1681, (eight years before the death of the last Mayflower pilgrim), and is the oldest meeting house in continuous use in America. Its pulpit dates from 1755; on its wall hangs a block of wood, carved in 1316 with St. Peter's keys, and originally placed in the church in Hingham, England, whence the first settlers came. Among other treasures is the baptismal basin, made not later than 1590. The parish has had but twelve ministers in nearly three hundred years. The church though originally Calvinistic, has always been inclined to liberal religious views, and today is Unitarian. In an ancient tomb, behind the Meeting House, rest the ashes of its early ministers, and near by in a tower erected to the memory of the founders of the church, hang eleven bells, "forever to voice their praise." "Ancient, yet not decrepit; rich in history, yet not satisfied with past achievements; free, yet subject to the higher law of the spirit dedicated to the worship of God, and the service of man."

(1936 cch. program)

John's descendants worshipped in this meeting house 260 years and still do in 1940, the tenth generation.

The old box pews were removed from the church when it was remodeled in 1869, but were restored again in 1930. The church had a "water organ" presented to it in 1912. When the church was restored to its previous order the organ was taken from the north east corner of the building and placed in the gallery. The organ was split in two parts and made into an electric organ.

The old box pews allotted to Leavitt descendants: In the year of 1756 No. 19 John Leavitt

No. 23 Joshua Leavitt

No. 29 Elisha Leavitt, Jr.

No. 45 Elisha Leavitt. In the year of 1791 Pew No. 64 Jacob Leavitt; Dr. Charles Howard, a descendant of the Leavitts of Hingham, now uses this pew, 1935.

From 1681 to 1755 benches were used instead of pews. John (1) must have used a bench during ten years of worship in this church.

(From the town of Exeter)

"That your petitioners, predecessors, either found the lands we now possess vacuum domicilium or purchased them of the Heathen, the nation proprietors of the same, or at least by their allowance, approbation, or consent, have sate downe in the peaceable possession of the same for the space of about fifty years; 'partly by the unreasonable demands of our pretended proprietor, Robert Mason,' we are in a far worse condition than any other, your majesty's plantations," and reduced to such confusions and extremities that necessitate our humble application to your majesty, upon whose clemency and justice only under God we depend for our release.

"'Your' 'oppressed petitioners' 'most humbly supplicate your most gracious majesty that you will give leave unto one of ourselves, Mr. Nathaniel Weave to spread before your most sacred majesty and your most honorable privy councill our deplorable estate' " &c.

Like petitions from Towns of Hampton, Portsmouth, and Dover.

The government (Mason's) became extremely oppressive to the people; and they determined to petition the King for redress of grievances. They accordingly drew up remonstrances which were signed by the inhabitants of the several towns. They selected Nathaniel Weave, of Hampton, their Agent for the purpose of presenting their petitions and enforcing them before the King and Council, and raised money by subscription to defray the expenses. Weave went to Boston and passage from thence for England. (Adam's Annals of Portsmouth, p. 75.)

NEW HAMPSHIRE PETITION

"To the Honorable, the Governor and Council of their Majestie's Colony of the Massachusetts Bay in New England:

"The humble address of the inhabitants and trained soldiers of the Province of New Hampshire February 20, 1689-90:

"Humbly sheweth, that whereas, since the late revolution in your colony, you have exerted a power of government over their Majestie's subjects and inhabitants wherein, which we are given to understand their Majestie's have been graciously pleased to approve of, and empowered you to continue the same till further order, and we who were under your government, having been for some time destitute of power sufficient, to put ourselves into a capacity of defence against the common enemy; and having, with great expectation, awaited their Majestie's order for a settlement amongst us, which, not yet arriving, considering how liable also we are to destruction by the enemy, which of ourselves we cannot prevent, we are therefore necessitated at present to supplicate your Honors for government, and protection as formerly, until their Majestie's pleasure shall be known concerning us: hereby obliging ourselves to a due submission thereto, and payment of our equal proportion (according to our capacity), of the charge that shall arise for the defence of the country against the common enemy; praying also that such persons may be commissioned to command the Militia as Have already been or shall be chosen by the trained soldiers in the respective towns, desiring your Honors to grant us this our request, and your petitioners shall ever pray."

Jonathan Gilman and gives the date of the m. of her cousin Elizabeth to Jonathan Gilman (N. H. v. r. s.). (See Gilman fam-s herein), Moses, jr. sells land 20 July 1745 to Dea. J. Lord, "Land between mine and my brother-in-law's, Caleb Gilman's." (N. H. P. P. vol. 2, pps. 36 and 246 and vol. 1.) The Province tax for Exeter, 20 Apr. 1680 Moses was taxed 7s—7¼ d. Moses was paid for services in the French and Indian wars for 5 wks, 10£ and 10s. In N. H. P. P. will of Stephen Lyford and Rebecca (Dudley) states that Stephen Lyford m. Elizabeth Leavitt. (Desc. of Francis Lyford).

Re-s differ about Sarah's m. Dudley mss. State Lib. Concord, states that Daniel, son of Moses, lived at Brentwood and d. here 1754-7. Dudley Gen. does not list a Daniel in Moses' family. His father no doubt gave him his share before he made his will, although he had given his son, Moses, land at Exeter he also mentioned him in his will while he did not mention Daniel. Moses deeds land, Moses Leavitt, yeoman of Exeter to Daniel Leavitt of Exeter, land in Exeter 1719, 40 acres lying on Deer Hill plain, which Moses bought of Thomas Wilson, bounded northwest corner of Stephen Dudley's land, running east to land called "ye great meadows," then north to land of Capt. John Gilman. This was not his son, but his nephew, son of Nehemiah.

(Mss. by Dean Dudley at N. H. State Library gives 6 generations descended from Sarah and Stephen Lyford, also will of Stephen.)

Moses Leavitt was a very prominent man in the town of Exeter. (The Dudley Gen. says "one of the most prominent also in the state"). In 1717 the Province authorized an issue of paper money to amount of 15,000 pounds, which was to be lent to the inhabitants in small sums on approval, landed security, and the town chose S. Thing, N. Gilman, and Moses Leavitt as the committee.

Moses is listed on many of the pages in N. H. Provincial Papers. A document dated 2 Nov. 1695 in N. H. P. P. is sealed with two arrows crossed, piercing a heart and signed by Theo. Atkinson. The return on back shows that Moses Leavitt and Theophilus Dudley were elected, reading: "You are required to give notice to the Captain of ye town that he stands upon his Guard, the Indians being on the frontiers:" Wm. Redford, Deputy.

From "Brentwood Church and Parish," a hand written book at the Historical Rooms at Concord, N. H.; Moses Leavitt was Deacon of the church as early as Aug. 1705, and as late as 1722. His name first appears on the town records 10 Oct. 1664. Hingham records give his birth as 1650 so he would be but 14 yrs. of age in 1664. One history says about 1658, making him but 8 yrs. of age which is plainly an error. His father may have owned land at Exeter and the son, Moses, may have been sent there to represent his father at the early age of 14, but it is very unlikely he took up land that early. The church book above mentioned had much copied into it from town records long after the incident occurred, and I found some evident errors, possibly made in copying. The date of 1664 may be an error, also. However, when land was given as homesteads very young sons of a family are recorded as taking a share, agreeing to settle there when they became of age, and it might have accounted for Moses' early appearance on Exeter town records.

Moses Leavitt

Jeremiah Calfe
James Young
Benjamin Smith

(Proved June 6, 1731)

(Bond of John Leavitt and Dudley Leavitt, with Benjamin Smith as surety, in the sum of £1000, June 16, 1731, for the settlement of the estate; witnesses, George Walker and John Penhallow)

Exeter, N. H. History by Bell states that two or three generations of the Leavitt families were engaged in hat, wool, and leather business. It also states that the land of Moses Leavitt along with the other lands at Exeter were attached by Robert Mason, a descendant of Capt. John Mason who was granted this land by the Council of Plymouth, by virtue of a royal patent, half a century previously. After the death of John Mason his heirs seemed to have abandoned this land and a title was purchased from the Indians and thereafter bought and sold by the citizens. When Robert Mason placed attachments on this land, hoping to recover it from the present occupants, through the courts, Mason obtained possession of the lands but the occupants remained on their respective farms in spite of the Sheriff's attachments and when Mason tried to sell the land he found no buyers. For about 25 yrs. this unsettled state existed, until an independent jury put a quietus on the Masonian claims and relieved the land owners.

Daniel Leavitt (3), son of Moses (2), John (1) b. abt. 1700-10. d. 1759. m. 24 Nov. 1757 Elizabeth Brown, dau. of Abraham and Argentine (Cram) Brown. Dudley mss. State Lib. Concord, N. H. states that Daniel, son of Moses, lived at Brentwood and d. here 1754-57. Also gives his b. exactly like that of his cousin, Daniel, son of Nehemiah (2). I doubt above Daniel was b. the same day since he was called Daniel the third, thus proving that he was b. later than Nehemiah's son. (Where two men by same name lived near they were called, "1st, 2nd and 3rd" although they were not necessarily related.) He could not have d. that early since his m. date is given as above and administration was asked in 1759 by Daniel Tilton as he d. intestate. He is called a laborer, and an Artificer in the Kings Works.

Application was granted to D. Tilton, 25 Feb. 1760. In the settlement accounts money received from Capt. Sam'l Gerrish for wages as an Artificer in the Kings Works, £102-0-0. He owed Dr. John Odlin for his last illness, and to Daniel Tilton a note dated Jan. 14, 1758 of £ 12 old tenor and interest at 15 p. c. £17-9-0. No real estate is mentioned. 1769, Nathaniel Heally of Kingston, N. H. was appointed guardian over his son, Daniel, a minor under 14 yrs., "being son of Daniel Leavitt of Exeter late deceased." Abraham Brown deeds land to his grandson, Daniel Leavitt, "son of Elizabeth Leavitt, my daughter of Hampton Falls, N. H. a widow." 1763. He also deeds her a house and lot same town 1763. Her bro. Abraham Brown, jr. deeds to Elizabeth land at H. Falls 1768.

In the Revolutionary records of N. Hampshire is a record of one Abraham Brown Leavitt, b. at Hampton Falls, d. after 1805 when he was pronounced non compos mentis. He served in the Revolutionary war enlisting 19 June 1778, in first regiment Militia to serve in Col. Peobody's regiment at Providence, R. I., also under Maj. Gen. Sullivan until Jan. 1, 1779.

He could be a legitimate child of Daniel and Elizabeth Leavitt but no proof found. No m. or family found.

In his will 1738-9 he gives to his brother-in-law, Moses Leavitt (husband of his sister Sarah), who was his executor, his best suit of clothes "from head to foot, both inward and outward clothing." Gives his cousin, Dudley (3), son of Moses (2), 100 lbs. toward buying himself a library. To his brother, Ephriam, some clothes. Will proved 11 Jan. 1754. His brothers, Daniel and Benjamin, were dead.

(Hist. of Newfields, N. H. gives above James Gilman, Eliz. Lyford as a wife. This is an error. He md. Hannah Leavitt and mentions her in his will as the "late Hannah (Leavitt)," in giving her clothes to their dau. Judith. I am advised the Hist. of Newfields contains many errors as the author d. before its completion. Above James may have had a son same name who md. Eliz. Lyford. Hist. of Sanbornton, N. H. states that above Hannah md. Jonathan Gilman which is an error.)

The name of Weare Leavitt first appears in this family, for the maiden name of Mary (Wadleigh's) mother. (N. H. Military Hist. by Potter p. 394) A muster roll of soldiers in the service of the province of N. H. under the command of Capt. Daniel Ladd, in a march after the enemy, towards "Winnipissacke Pond, 17 May 1724" served 5 days 20-7-1. (p. 43). Rev. War

Jonathan Leavitt (4), son of Joe. (3), Moses (2), John (1) b. 19 May 1730, at Exeter, N. H. Bpt. 15 Aug. 1730, d. 13 May 1824 and both are buried in the Hodgedon Cemetery at Northfield, N. H. on Dearborn Hill, m. 1750 Ruth Cram of New Market, N. H., dau. of Wadleigh and Ruth (Gilman) Cram (see Cram data this book.) bpt.

6 Apr. 1735 by Rev. Joseph Whipple of Hampton Falls, N. H., d. Apr. 1820. Jonathan came to Northfield, (then Canterbury) in the vicinity of Bean Hill before 1762. His sons owned 100 acre lots No. 23; 24; and 30 and 18 lots of the common land. Their farms were later owned by the Smiths, Kezars, and Abbotts. On the fifth range at its intersection of the Bean Hill road and further south on this range leading to Canterbury Borough. Jonathan buys land at Moultonboro, N. H. 17 Nov. 1763, then part of Meredith. Lived at Epping which was then part of Exeter. He received land grants at Cavendish, N. H. 1751. The Christian name of Wadleigh first appears in this family and no doubt taken from Ruth's father, Wadleigh Cram. First five ch. b. at Exeter, N. H. and Hampton Falls, and the rest at Northfield, N. H. I have no proof of Jonathan's service in war but D. A. R. marker on his grave seems to prove his service.

 - Dorothy b. 14 Apr. 1773; d.
 - Lydia b. 7 June 1776; d.
- (Some re-s give Dudley instead of Dorothy, perhaps confusing b. of her cousin Dudley of same town b. same date.)

Jonathan Leavitt buys land 5 June 1777 from Jeremiah Clough of Canterbury for £17 and 10s. Paid by Jonathan of Epping, land at Canterbury, one half of a 100 acre lot number 23 recorded 1805. Wit. Richard Haines and John Leavitt. (Rockng. Co. deeds 171-233). 26 Apr. 1800 he sells the same land to Shubael Dearborn part of lot number 23 and all the building. His old deed was dated 5 June 1777. Probably Jonathan and wife moved to their daughter's at this time, Ruth Dearborn.

French and Indian Wars

Joseph Leavitt (4), son of Joseph (3), Moses (2), John (1) b. 25 Apr. 1733 at Exeter, N. H.; d. 18 Sept. 1818, at Gilmanton, N. H. m. his cousin, Love Leavitt, dau. of Dudley (3); b. 14 Aug. 1737; d. 11 Feb. 1823. 1779 Joseph and wife, Love, sell land to Robert Light, at Exeter, N. H. for $1950. They removed to Canterbury (now Northfield) 1779. He sells land at Northfield, N. H. in lot No. 38, 46 acres to George Randell. Sells 60 acres to Nehemiah Clough 22 Mar. 1787. Joseph and Love deed land to their son, Joseph, of Northfield, yeoman, land in Northfield the original right of John Glines, No. 47 in 2nd div. of 100 acres in Canterbury township same land that Love bought from John Lyford, 18 acres. He sells land to Dudley Leavitt, jr. in Gilmanton 21 Aug. 1804. U. S. Cen. 1790 reads: 2-1-2. Ch. all b. at Exeter, N. H. but lived at Northfield. Joseph served in the French and Indian war under Capt. Robert Kimball. He was a Serg't in 1757 under Capt. Ladd, also served from 26 Apr. to 21 Oct. 1755. In 1746 he served from Canterbury under Capt. James Leavitt and Serg't Joseph Rawlings. It was said by Northfield residents that he served in the Revolutionary War but I find several service r-s of a Joseph which showed that several by this name served and since only those who applied for pensions names appear in records at Washington on this war, it seems impossible to determine which service belongs to any certain Joseph. Wash. r-s state only three named Joseph applied for pension but I have r-s of four who applied.

In 1795 he and wife convey land at Northfield, deed reading: "I, Joshua Leavitt, of Northfield, convey land to Dudley Leavitt, of Northfield, schoolmaster." Dudley was then 23 yrs. old, and is the almanac maker of Meredith. In a deed of 1792 we find: "I, Joshua Leavitt, of Deerfield, yeoman, and my wife, Elizabeth, do convey to John Prescott, land near land of Kinsley Hall." He also lived at Loudon Ridge, N. H. Rev. War (?) Colonial Wars

Nathaniel Leavitt (4), son of Joe. (3), Moses (2), John (1) b. 27 Dec. 1727 at Deerfield, N. H. d. 18 Feb. 1824. m. Lydia Sanborn dau. of Jeremiah and Lydia (Dearborn) of Sanbornton, N. H. where he removed in early life. b. 26 Feb. 1737. d. 30 Oct. 1827. He evidently took his bride to Exeter as their children were all born here. 1793 he removed to Grantham, N. H. and settled on Leavitt Hill. It is said at one time 50 Leavitt children attended school on Leavitt Hill. In this branch there were 17 school teachers, 3 doctors, and one prominent astronomer. Nathaniel served in early wars, and went on an expedition to Crown Point, Can. with Capt. Nath. Folsom 1755, 9th Co. Col. Joe. Blanchard, also to Fort Duquesne, Niagara, &c. serving from 30 Apr. to 22 July 1755. Also in Co. 6, with Lt. Col. John Hart acting as Captain. I find no r-s of his serving in the Revolution but it is altogether likely he did serve as all able bodied man had to serve, and it would seem he was healthy to have lived to be 96. There are many r-s of a Nath. serving in this war but authors give all such credits to Nath. of the T. (1) line. They were of the same locality and some of the records may belong to this Nathaniel.

Sarah Leavitt (4), dau. of John (3), Moses (2), John (1), b. abt. 1720 at Exeter, N. H. d. 1763 to 1795. She is not mentioned in James' will 1795. m. 1742 James Gordon (3), son of Thomas (2), Alexander (1), b. 1711 at Exeter, N. H. on Gordon Hill. d. 1799, will made 18 Mar. 1795 living at Brentwood, N. H. proved 15 Apr. 1880. Fam. Bible gives her name as Lydia.

They lived and died at Brentwood, N. H. but if buried there we find no headstones except field stones. James was elected by the town of Brentwood 1766 surveyor of highways; 1768 and 9 he served as constable. 1761 his father, Thomas, mentions in his will; "He has already received most of his share." In the Revolutionary War he was called for town of Poplin (now Fremont). He served in this war under Capt. Peter Coffin's Co. List of said company copied from original is in bureau of pensions at Wash. D. C. James Gordon in this list. In the town list of names 10 May 1781 James Gordon appears: "Received from the state of N. H. by hand of Jedediah Jewett $15. each, in bills of credit emitted pursuant to act of Congress passed 18 of Mar. 1780 as Gratuity for our faithful service at Camp James River." He was appointed thything man for town of Brentwood 1753-4-5. He was in the 6th Co. on war rolls as a private. Several enlistments for him. (See N. H. P. P.). Kingston v. rs- page 3 (N. H. Hist. REVOLUTIONARY WAR TIME

The 24th of May 1775, at Boston harbor three sloops and one cutter came out and dropped anchor just below Great Hill. It seems the expedition was to Grape Island for Levett's hay. A sloop from Hingham was loaded with citizens and made for the island and when the British saw them they decamped. Our men set fire to the barn and hay, about 80 tons.

History of Hingham says: "Very many if not most of the soldiers of Hingham served in the American Revolution and not a few enlisted or were called out four or five times. Eleven of the name of Leavitt were in the Revolution from Hingham."

There were fifteen Leavitts of Hingham who served: Jacob; Benjamin; Caleb (5) who served from Conn. but was of Hingham; Caleb his father; Samuel; Bela; Moses; Joshua (3 bro's); Joseph; Jairus; Joshua; and his son Joshua; Martin; Elisha (the Tory); and Jotham.

He sells land here 11 Nov. 1816 to Samuel Fellows. Hannah was dau. of Nathaniel and Hannah Call. (J. P. L. of Chi. gives family below except the ch. by first wife, and Alvin Cobb). I am not sure Alvin is son of Dudley but by process of elimination he fits none other.

 at Northfield. He resigned as town clerk at Gilmanton 26 Aug. 1806.
 He was editor of the Gilmanton Gazette and Farmers Weekly published by Leavitt & Clough 1800-1. The Leavitts generally believed his was the first New England almanac but that honor goes to a Mayflower passenger, Capt. William Pierce, who published the first
 N. Eng. almanac in 1622, two years after his arrival. No copy extant today. Dudley and his wife and many of their descendants lie buried in their family farm lot at Meredith, N. H. A large painted portrait of Dudley adorns the New Hampshire State House at Concord.

 Livilia b. 16 July 1818; d. 21 July 1855; m. Charles Prescott of Meredith and had three children.
 Josiah and Patience Kenney had issue: Jane B. who md. Phillip Blaisdell and lived at Meredith, N. H. She was the ninth Preceptress of the "N. H. Conference Seminary and Female College" of Tilton, N. H. now called Tilton School.

When Dudley became of age he married but this did not quench his thirst for knowledge. At Gilmanton, N. H. he studied under Rev. Isaac Smith, and learned Latin and Greek. However, he was more interested in Astronomy. In 1806 he removed to Meredith, N. H. and purchased about fifty acres of land and it is said he paid not more than a dollar an acre. It was a tract in the wilderness. He built a rude house, which had no proper chimney, although there was a place for a fire. An oven was built on a large stump a few rods from the house and was standing in 1871. He later built a better though a humble dwelling in which he lived his remaining life. He continued his almanac and in his late life as many as sixty thousand copies were sold yearly. He also published the New Hampshire Register for several years, and made calculations for the Free-will Baptist Register from 1844 to time of his death. Some of his worth while books: "Elements of Arithmetic"; "An Abridgement to Pike's Arithmetic"; "Scholars Review and Teachers Daily Assistant"; Complete Directions for Parsing the English Language, and "Juvenile Geography," and when he died he had nearly completed a book on Astronomy.

Such is the simple but suggestive history of a self made man, born at a period when schools were rare and instruction was meager in New Hampshire, he yet, by the force of his own will, found means to secure a fund of useful knowledge, and then giving play to the natural bent of his mind, made such progress in mathematical studies, as to become the instructor and guide of thousands of his countrymen.

The career of Mr. Leavitt is full of instruction to the young. Where there is a disposition for mental improvement, the means is sure to spring up and that poverty is no bar to the acquisition of knowledge or the attainments of distinction among men.

In his early almanac many interesting items appeared, mostly useful. Times and places for holdings of courts, of R. I., Conn., N. H., Vermont. The roads and stage routes were given from Concord to Portland (which was then in Mass.), to Portsmouth, Boston, New York, and Philadelphia. The names of Inns and their proprietors were given for all stopping places except in the large cities above mentioned. These Inns were all noted and many of them were famous for some special dish served or for a particularly well mixed drink.

When Dudley was 25 yrs. of age he took up the study of Greek and Latin and when he moved to Meredith he began upon Hebrew and French. He always said he was too busy to bother about money.

In 1811 he established the N. H. Register, a publication involving a great deal of labor, and he edited this for several years. He also published several text books, including an arithmetic and a grammar, which were widely circulated and were also used in Europe. He was a master of music and other sciences of which his mind was a great storehouse.

On a plot of high ground, giving a fine view of old Chocorua, and the Ossipee Range, is the family burying ground, at the old family homestead farm in Meredith, N. H. (From the Free Will Baptist Quarterly the following): "His father was a farmer of but little property. Dudley was of a thoughtful turn of mind, but such were the limited educational privileges of those days, he could neither go to school nor find books to read. In all he went to school but three months in his life. He read three times a day and wrote a little and ciphering on birch bark as a substitute for paper or slate. He spent evenings before the fireside studying by the light of pitch knots, and in this way he acquired his chief store of knowledge.

His advertisement in the Concord Observer: "Meredith Academick School. Dudley Leavitt hereby respectfully gives this information: That he proposes to open his school in Meredith near Center Harbour on the 23rd day of August next, for instruction in the various studies usually taught in academies. The Lancaster method will be adopted as far as practicable. No pains will be spared on the part of the instructor to render the acquisition of useful knowledge easy and pleasant to those young gentlemen and ladies who may attend the school.

"Board reasonable. Tuition $3.00 per quarter; except for teaching Algebra, Navigation, Genomery, or the Science of Projectiles etc. Spherick Geometry and Trigonometry, Astronomy, and Philosophy, for which the tuition will be $3.50 a quarter and in that proportion for any length of time. Meredith, 6 July 1819."

He cared little for money but loved knowledge and revered God. He fell dead at home early on the morning of 15 Sept. 1851.

He was named Dudley indirectly for Gov. Thomas Dudley from whom both parents descended, but his great-grandmother was Dorothy Dudley who was a grand-daughter of the Governor, and daughter of Rev. Samuel. Down through the 300 years this name of Dudley has followed in direct line of the Governor in their many branches, but especially so from the wife of Moses Leavitt (2).

His first almanac was printed in 1796 and his last in 1858, direct from his pen, but the one for 1852 was at press when he died and he left six manuscripts completed. His second cousin, William B. Leavitt of Grantham, N. H., carried on the almanac for many years, he being a student of Dudley. In his almanac published 1797 he wrote an article on "the evils of idleness." On the December page he advertised: "Buy an almanac for 1797." The old homestead has remained in the family for more than a century and now consists of about 300 acres. The male line of this famous branch of the Leavitt families becomes extinct with the present owner of the farm, as Dudley (8) never married. He and his two maiden sisters are greatly respected by all who know them. They take keen enjoyment out of life and an active part in the life of the community, contributing in their quiet way to the fame of the great grandfather of whom Meredith is proud as one of its early settlers.

From an old Laconia newspaper we find a clipping on the life of Dudley (5). "Dudley Leavitt of almanac fame needs little introduction. His first almanac appeared in Jan. 1796 when Washington was President and our government was but eight years old. *His first edition was printed at Gilmanton and he was assisted by Rev. Isaac Smith of that town.

At the time of our first memories the little pamphlet hung beneath the mantle shelf and as soon as it came to the old home and the leaves were separated from the most folded sheet of paper on which the pages appeared, interest centered on what eclipses of the sun and moon were to be for the coming year and then the weather for the month. Next the quaint pictures of industrial life on the farm were scanned. The good editorial advice for each month was of course absorbed. The almanac was ever at hand when consultations were needed about the weather throughout the year not to mention its convenience for marking important dates to be remembered and other miscellaneous items—viz: when the hen was set and other expectations of birth among the kine & flocks. There were those at that time and probably since that strictly regarded the signs given when to plant and sow again, kill the pig, go on a journey etc.

The almanac by this author is perhaps his best memorial for in studying the few biographies of his life there is little given to reveal the true character of the founder of the Leavitt home on the road between Meredith and Center Harbor. One little story reveals however, how he stood on religious matters. This is given on page 14 of the D. A. R. book on "Old Meredith and Vicinity" churches by C. H. Perkins as follows: "Dudley Leavitt, the astronomer, was not a member of the church but attended with his wife. At one evening meeting his wife made a fervent prayer that he might be saved. After she had finished, he arose and said, 'We read in God's word, that the unbelieving husband shall be justified by the prayers of the believing wife.' He then walked out of the church. This incident seemingly places him among the gnostics whose tenets incline to knowledge rather than religion or philosophy as the true key to salvation. Anyhow he had the Bible down pat to make so apt a quotation as stated in the only record of his talking in meeting.

An article on his life by Mary E. Hannaford and notes selected from various references, by Mary Gale Hibbard, follow:

Dudley Leavitt, "Master Leavitt" so styled in early days, descended from fine Puritan stock. The Dudleys were from Gov. Thomas Dudley, whose ancestry dates back to 1576.

"Master Dudley Leavitt," used to hold his "Meredith Academick School," at his house just beyond the present Dudley Leavitt home, on the same farm, where many young people gathered for learning. He taught the higher branches, having acquired them by his own efforts. Polly Prescott, one of his pupils, stated that "when you saw one of Master Leavitt's children you would see a book."

It is said of him that he never came in from the field so tired but that he would take up a book to work his mind, while he rested his body. It is stated that when twenty-five years old he took up the study of Greek and Latin, and after 1806 when he removed to Meredith he took up the study of Hebrew and French.

One of Dudley Leavitt's daughters married John T. Jones, and went as a missionary to Siam; he was the first man to translate the Bible into the Siamese language. Another daughter married Rev. John Seymour, they went as missionaries to Minnesota and taught among the Indians. While there they had a daughter born who was the first white girl born in what is now the state of Minnesota.

A story comes to us that some white people cheated the Indians at that time and these missionaries' lives were threatened that night but a terrific thunder shower quieted the Indians' wrath as they thought the "Great Spirit" was angry with them for their murderous threats, and no harm was done.

Under the account of James Hersey a surveyor of Sanbornton we learn that "Dudley Leavitt boarded at his house while teaching at the Bridge, who was also assisted by Esq. Hersey in making out his first almanac."

He moved to Meredith in 1806, and his name is found in an old account book of that year.

His first house stood farther back from the road than the one now there. It is said that his first house is now standing on the north side of the road to Center Harbor, not far from the entrance to the girls' camp. The graveyard where he is buried is near the present Leavitt house. Trap rock has been found lately near there.

Hist. of Merrimack and Belknap

"One of the most celebrated of the early teachers was Dudley Leavitt, of almanac fame, whose reputation as a mathematician and astronomer extended to the scientific circles of Europe. His first school was taught in a house standing near the Prospect House, on the old road from Meredith Village to Center Harbor Mr. Leavitt afterwards taught school on Meredith Parade."

p. 855
From Merrimack and Belknap

"DUDLEY LEAVITT—This noted astronomer, school-teacher and almanac-maker was for years an honored character of Meredith. His fame extended to European countries, and it is related that one of the French savants, who visited his plain abode, was much surprised at the simplicity of the surroundings, as he expected to find an imposing mansion instead of a pioneer cabin, and when he learned that the annual revenue of Mr. Leavitt amounted to seventy-five dollars, and that 'he had all he wanted' he could not understand in the slightest degree such Spartan qualities as he saw exhibited."

NEW HAMPSHIRE MILITIA

After the war of 1812, in which at least two Leavitts from Sanbornton, N. H. served, there were three "Divisions" in the state, each subdivided into two brigades, and in all about forty regiments. The regiment including Sanbornton was the 29th, Second Brigade of the Second Division. This regiment, as in the former arrangement, embraced also the towns of Meredith and New Hampton,—or what is now known as five towns, Laconia, and Tilton added. Muster parades in this town were also established below the Bay meeting-house (near the Bay shore, on the Brown place), and at the Bridge, (Tilton), on the Academy Hill. At the latter, Gov. Hubbard reviewed the troops in 1842. The musters of the several regiments were held each year, from Sept. 1 to Oct. 15. The 29th regiment was acknowledged to be one of the best in the State. Inspector Stevens said to Col. Moore, in 1842, "It is the best regiment that I have inspected in this division, and I shall so report it." (Runnels Hist. of Sanbornton).

(See N. H. Soldiers of Rev.) Bureau of Pensions at Wash. D. C. says Stephen Leavitt served in the Rev. War in Peter Coffin's Co. This was a N. H. Company. Since he was called Captain no doubt he did serve. At a Brentwood Town meeting 21 Mar. 1796 Stephen was voted in as one of the "Sessors."

Wadleigh Leavitt (5), Jon. (4), Joe. (3), Moses (2), John (1) b. 18 Dec. 1763 at "The North Fields of Canterbury, N. H." (Later Northfield). d. 8 Dec. 1853; m. 1790 Elizabeth Leavitt b. 23 June 1770; d. 15 Aug. 1853, dau. of Peter and Elizabeth (Cram) Leavitt J. & T. (5) of the Thomas line. Their grandfathers, Jonathan and Wadleigh Cram, being brothers made them second cousins. (See Cram families herein). Wadleigh and wife are buried at W. Danville, P. Q., Can. He was first cousin to Dudley Leavitt the famous almanac maker of Meredith, N. H. The town history of Littleton, N. H. states: "Wadleigh Leavitt came to Littleton, N. H. before 1792, residing there until 1809, when he followed the Caswells to lower Canada. While living at Littleton he held several public offices, as collector of school tax 1805, committee of repairs, and as selectman. He was highly regarded as an influential citizen." Wadleigh did not follow to Canada from Littleton, as we find him at New Hampton, N. H. (a few miles from his birthplace, Northfield) in 1800 census, he had 3 sons and five dau-s. Again in 1810 census we find him at New Hampton. There is no doubt he removed to Canada in 1810 after census was taken. He was my father's grandfather and I have heard my father say his father was born at New Hampton and lived there until he was eleven years old when the family removed to Canada driving their flocks and cattle from N. Hampton, and he, Dudley (6), helping to drive the sheep. Wadleigh may have lived at Littleton from 1792 to about 1805-6 as his son, Wadleigh, was b. there 1803. 7 May 1791 Wadleigh sells land to Shubael Dearborn, his bro-in-law, for £42, the same piece of land total of 50 acres in lots 24 and 25, this land originally laid out to John Glines of Canterbury. 29 Jan. 1793 he sells land in Northfield to his uncle Joshua Leavitt of Deerfield. My father, Benton C. (7), returned to Northfield to live about 1885 and he searched out the New Hampton farm which was formerly owned by his grandfather. They moved into a dense forest in Canada, cut the huge timber, burned it to ashes and made potash from the ashes for future soap making. They cleared the land of stumps, seeding it to grass, meantime building a log cabin or house. My father had uncles, Wadleigh, Gideon, and Guy, and at school the children would tease him by calling him, "old Doodley, Wadley, Gidley, Guy." The phrase, "go ask your Uncle Dudley" was coined by this branch of the Leavitt family, and I presume originated by referring them to Dudley Leavitt the school master and almanac maker of Meredith, N. H. In the Northfield town r-s we find that Wadleigh sold his Northfield farm to his brother, Gideon, before 1800. Wadleigh served in the Revolutionary War under Capt. Whipple in a company of a Massachusetts Reg't in Continental line, commanded by Cols. Rufus Putman and Vose successively. He served until 24 May 1783. He enlisted from Canterbury, N. H. 17 Apr. 1781, aged 18 yrs. He was also a private in Col. Maxin's R. I. Reg't. He made application for a pension 14 Aug. 1832, stating therein his age to be 69 years and his residence Melbourne, P. Q., Canada. He was placed on the pension list 10 June 1833. Vol. 1 of Senate Documents, 1st session, 23rd Congress, containing "Report from the Secretary of War" (See p. 157, vol. 1). following Vermont pension rolls. This report gives the name of "Wadley" Leavitt, residing in the Province of Lower Canada, who made declaration in the State of Vermont and was placed on the pension list under act of Congress passed 7 June 1832. Annual pension allowed amounted to \$80. or \$6.66 $\frac{2}{3}$ per month, the pay for a Revolutionary soldier. (Emily Leavitt Noyes, Author).

SIXTH GENERATION

Abigail Leavitt (6), dau. of Moses (5), Nath. (4), Joe. (3), Moses (2), John (1) b. 1 Mar. 1781 at Exeter, N. H.; d. 12 Apr. 1862 at Derby, Vt.; m. Jan. 1800 Rev. Moses Cheney of Sanbornton Bay, N. H. He d. 9 Aug. 1856 at Sheffield, Vt. He preached about fifty years. 1936 he has a grandson, Lowell Cheney, aged 96 living at Des Moines, Iowa. He is in wonderful health. Moses Cheney's father was Nathaniel Cheney b. at Haverhill, Mass. 7 Oct. 1747 and was grandson of the famous Hannah Dustin (?) of Indian story. He md. Elizabeth Ela and had ten children. His son, Moses, became a Free Will Baptist Minister and later a Calvinist Baptist. He was also a singer and hymn writer. He was described as strong minded, yet versatile, popular, yet faithful. Abigail had twelve children, ten of them below. Many of his children were greatly gifted with music. Four sons, Moses jr., Nathaniel, Simon, and Joseph were famous as singing school teachers, and with their sister, Elizabeth, under the name of "Cheney Family" gave concerts for two years in New York, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Massachusetts. (See pp. 501-2 Hist. of Haverhill, N. H.). Moses sr. was a famous preacher of his day (See Hist of Sanbornton by Runnels). "About the year of 1783 when Nathaniel Cheney, sr. was felling trees, soon after his settlement in town, and had just got "a drove" (a line of falling trees) when he saw his little boy coming in the way of them, and screamed at the top of his voice; "Jump, Moses, jump!" The child sprang just in time, behind a large hemlock, which screened him from being crushed to death by tops of the trees, either by holding the "drove" or turning it to one side. This young lad was afterwards the famous Elder Moses Cheney, and he says of this tree: "after my father moved away I was often back to visit it, and then its stump, which lasted many years. At length I sought in vain for remains of it." He then wrote a poem about the "old Hemlock." Five verses of it appears in the Sanbornton History.

Moses Leavitt purchased the Sanbornton farm lot No. 3, (John Wentworth, jr. a Masonian Proprietor). It was deeded wild to Moses by Jonathan Hoit of Stratham, N. H. 16 Mar. 1789 for 97£-10s, "except two rods for highway given to town on west side," which reverted to owner when the Meadow School House road was built. Moses deeded it to his sons, John S. and Nathaniel, 3 Oct. 1827. Nathaniel still owned the larger part of it in 1880. The Moody House built by John S. Leavitt burned in 1872. Nathaniel Cheney was first to own the Leavitt place lot No. 42, in 2nd div.

A THOUGHT

Oh what is life, that we should be
So wedded to a few brief years?
And what is death—the Master key
That opes the greatest mystery,—
That we should view with dread and tears?
'Tis but to drop a weary quest,
To lay our useless garments by
And fold the hands across the breast,
And close the eyes in peaceful rest,
And wake to immortality.

This yard is up over the hill from Edwin Leavitt's home on Arch St. Both Wadleigh and his wife Abigail, died of cancer. Wadleigh died before his wife and she made plasters and drew out fourteen cancers from his back before he died, but they kept on forming and finally proved fatal. Wadleigh made his home in Melbourne, P. Q. and his ch. were all born here, but his son, Edwin, removed to Northfield. The first marriage recorded by Rev. Jonathan Taylor at Eaton, P. Q. was "Wadley" Leavitt and Mary Percival, on 8 Sept. 1828. Records tell us this marriage was performed before the bridge was built across the river (1836) and being the season of high water Wadleigh could not cross the river so he called aloud until the minister heard, and the marriage ceremony was performed by shouting the ceremony back and forth, with the bride and groom on one side of the river and the parson on the other.

William showed in early life a great fondness for the sciences and was instructed by Dudley Leavitt, of almanac fame. Dudley and William's father were own cousins. All his life William studied various sciences and gave much time and thought to public interests.

Many times his townsmen tried to make him take office but he did not desire such an opportunity. He did, however, serve as town treasurer and also as Town Clerk for two years each. He carried on the work of the New England Farmers' Almanac after the death of Dudley, who had taught him astronomy. At his death, William had manuscripts made out for 21 years in advance. He also was the author of a geometry which was acclaimed by experts to rival those in use. It was never published. He was a modest, retiring, man, and never received the credit due him.

Her grandfather fought in the Revolution and her father in the War of 1812. The French name was spelled "Dubois." Her descendants say she was like a mother to everybody, and highly esteemed by all who knew her. Her tombstone inscription reads: "Give her of the fruit of her hands and let her own work praise her in the gates. Prov. 31:31." A fine tribute to one well worthy of it, perhaps returning in part some of the deep affection she had always shown to others. Both Albert and his wife are buried in the Kendal Cemetery. He removed to state of Washington settling at Kendal in 1888. All of the children, except the youngest one, were born at Sawyer, Clifton township, Canada. In this burying plot one stone is entirely obliterated by age, probably the son, Albert.

(The

Historical Society kindly gave me permission to copy what I needed from these books to further my genealogy. I was indeed surprised to find this Joseph came from the same Northfield, N. Whitmore. 1935 she wrote me: "We have been married 66 yrs. and are still friends!" They lived on the old home place at Bonaparte, Iowa, where they were married in 1868, and where Hazard was reared. She was a member of the D.A.R. and one of the very few "real grand-daughters" of the American Revolution. Their son, Herbert, and wife moved back to the old home to care for the "old folks." This Whitmore farm shows but three transfers in the abstract of title from the government to Anderson, then to Benjamin Whitmore, and finally to Hazard in settling the estate. In 1935 they wrote "the old folks are in good health and enjoying the evening of life, to the fullest extent."

Alfred Lewis Leavitt (8), son of Hiram L. (7), Josiah (6), Dudley (5), Nath. (4), Joe. (3), Moses (2), John (1) b. 17 Oct. 1859 at San Francisco, Calif.; d. 28 Aug. 1934; m. Florence Margaret Reed. Alfred was very delicate during his youth but outgrew it about the time they moved to San Francisco from Bridgeport, to attend preparatory school. Later he entered the University of California at Berkley where he studied law. After finishing his education he started with a farmer and his family across country with horses and cattle hoping to reach Spokane, Wash. When they reached the wild country of the Klamath and Modoc Indians they found a promising country and settled here, Alfred establishing his family at Klamath Falls, Ore. History says at time of his death he could point with pride to his reputation as citizen, father, and husband. His friends numbered scores and were scattered from one end of the state to the other. This branch is easily identified with those who remained in Grantham, N. H., having the same type of features, long, slim faces, blond complexion, large stature, and attractive personalities. They are also good scholars, many of them being honor students, perhaps taking back to their ancestors of Grantham who were mostly school teachers or astronomers.

ODE TO HINGHAM

Hingham, dearest Hingham,
 How sweet the name to me.
 Of all the places on the earth
 There's nowhere I'd rather be.

I've seen the great Niagara,
 The Rockies in the West.
 But Hingham, dear old Hingham,
 Is the place that I love best.

I love to drive at twilight
 When the sun is going down;
 And amble over Willow Bridge
 And the back roads of the town.

But when we enter Lincoln Street,
 And down to Fountain Square,
 We note a sort of restfulness
 And sweetness in the air.

The Mt. Blue Road is a charming drive;
 And at Eve'n when it's still,
 Where could one find a fairer spot
 Than on top of Turkey Hill?

And then there's Downer's Landing,
 With a view of all the Bay;
 It certainly is delightful
 At the close of a summer day.

We drive home from the City
 On a sultry summer day,
 Through Wollaston and Quincy;
 And all along the way.

The Elm trees and the Maples;
 The Birches and the Pine,
 In all the world there's not a town
 So handsome and so fine.

Howard Leavitt Horton.
